RFC Codes of Conduct / Club ethos

Player	Parent	Coach	Club ethos
Turn up in full kit, including shin pads, with water bottle	To commit to player being available for training sessions and matches	To inform parents of training / match time as soon as possible	Parent-led Club
Listen to coaches' instructions in training and matches	Provide as much notice as possible for any non-attendance	To plan interesting training sessions that develop players' skills / matchplay	Non-selective boys and girls football at non-competitive age groups (although streaming may apply)
Fully participate in training sessions	Abide by the Club policies	To maintain coach:player ratios	To provide the best football experience possible
Try best in matches and never give up no matter what the score is	To ensure the player arrives at the time specified by the coach for training / matches (which may be up to 45 mins before kick-off)	All teams are required to have a coach with FA1/12CF status.. All coaches to have up-to-date safeguarding and DBS plus ideally emergency aid qualification.	Club structure to maximise player development from U6. No streaming at U7. Unless approved by the Exec, from U9, there will be an A side selected solely on ability
Play to win, but always fairly	Be prepared to set up goals at home matches	Players in matchday squad to get at least half a match	To provide some professional coaching where budget allows and subject to team requirements
Respect for fellow players, opposition and referees / other officials	Be supportive to players and coaches at matches	Any exclusions from matchday squad to be strictly rotational (unless disciplinary)	To deal with issues fairly and in accordance with the RFC Codes of Conduct
	Leave the coaching to the coaches	To ensure squad is large enough to meet all fixtures	Maintain FA Accredited Status
	Respect for opposition and referees / other officials	Respect for players, opposition and officials
